JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli Foreign Ministry officials had no comment today on the new U. S. proposal to get Israel's troops out of the Gaza Strip and Egyptian territory along the Gulf of Aqaba.

A spokesman said the proposal, made yesterday by Secretary of State Dulles to Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban, had not yet been received officially.

He added that no official reaction would be available until Eban's report had been received and studied.

The Israeli press assumed that the possibility of the U. N. General Assembly calling for sections against Israel had subsided for the time being as a result of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's warning against such action.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States sought today a quick answer from Israel to an American compromise proposal for breaking a deadlock over withdrawal of remaining Israeli troops from Egypt.

The plan was presented to Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban yesterday by Secretary of State Dulles, reportedly with a request for a prompt reply which could come today or tomorrow.

The compromise would provide for an immediate United States declaration of support for free navigation of the Gulf of Aqaba by Israeli and all other ships, and for American backing of United Nations action to secure Israeli against any future Egyptian attack from the Gaza Strip.

Israel had announced it would not withdraw from the two areas until it had assurances that (1) Egypt would not block Israeli ships from using the Gulf of Aqaba to the Red Sea and (2) there would be no more Egyptian raids on Israel from the Gaza Strip.

Group to Ask Extension of Highway 53

There will be a meeting of the Highway 53 Committee Wednesday Feb. 13 at 7 p. m. according to T. J. Silvey, Chairman of the committee.

Everyone interested in getting Highway 53 extended to Highway 82 South is invited to attend the meeting which will be held at Bodew School.

Representatives from Prescott, Bodew, Falcon, Buckner, Stamps, Silsille, Magnolia, will be present.

This road furnishes service for 207,000 broilers on feed, 15,000 hogs, several oil wells, 390 farm families and for interests going north and south between Highway 67 and 82. Highway 53 is a link to connect the two primary roads it would make Highway 53 a much more valuable highway.

Aviation Service Involved in Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Kenneth Starnes, operator of a Little Rock aviation service, contends a $170,000 suit against him in connection with a plane crash at Russellville last year contains, vague charges.

Mr. Douglas C. Shelton, 33, of Little Rock, filed the suit Jan. 25 in Pulaski Circuit Court. He was riding in a light plane which crashed at Russellville July 15, killing veteran pilot Rex Pierce Hayes of Little Rock.

Shelton suffered injuries in the crash.

Starnes filed a motion yesterday asking that the plaintiff be directed to clarify charges in an amended complaint. Some of the charges would have referred to either Hayes or himself, Starnes said.

One charge alleged that Hayes was "notoriously careless." Hayes was "quoted to fly and that his employer, Starnes, was negligent in allowing him to pilot the plane.

Apparently She Did Best Thing

MEMPHIS (AP) — When Mrs. Frankie Young stopped her car in heavy traffic it was astraddle a railroad track.

First thing you know, along came a train.

Well, said Mrs. Young, the cars in front couldn't move. So she and the five young children in the car made a run for it.

The train smashed into the car, sending it tumbling along the tracks for 60 feet. About that time, said Mrs. Young, the school bus and the car that had blocked her way drove off.

No one was hurt, Mrs. Young said the only bright note in the whole affair was "I had insurance."

New Addition to Lincoln Collection

By JOHN B. KNOX
BOSTON (AP) — Abraham Lincoln, worried and war-torn, carried a chair out of the White House one morning a month before his assassination and posed for a picture to please his young son "Tad."

The 32-year-old first print of that picture by a Waltham, Mass., photographer is a new addition to Boston University's big collection of Lincolniana. The tale of how it was made adds an intimate human paragraph to the story of Lincoln as a father.

The picture, with two other new Lincoln collection additions, are displayed for the first time by the university's Cheney Library in observance of the anniversary of Lincoln's birth. One of the additions is a photograph of Boston Corbett, autographed shortly after Corbett shot the assassin of Lincoln, John Wilkes Booth. The other is an album with autographs of Lincoln, which some of his associates sold to help raise money at an Iowa fair in 1864 for sick and wounded soldiers.

From the donor of the memoirs, Dean Emeritus Melvin M. Johnson of the B. U. Law School, come the stories of how the Lincoln picture happened to be made, of the autograph album, how the Corbett picture was made, and the role Johnson's father played in connection with all three.

Bottom Falls Out of Bahama Ghost Industry

By HAL BOYLE
ANDROS TOWN, Bahamas (AP) — The bottom has fallen out of the ghost rental industry here.

At the moment every ghost in the stable of Constable Boyd, who has built up a monopoly in the spook-renting field, is unemployed.

"Mon, nobody seems to want to pay a fair price for one," cheerfully grumbled the venerable constable. "They expect a ghost to work for nothing but rice and pigeon peas."

Dealing in the renting and selling of guaranteed, grade-A haunting ghosts—just the thing for "the man who has everything"—is actually merely a sideline with Constable Boyd.

But his reported power over spectral spirits — no one knows just when he set up his ghostly employment agency—may explain

Asks Sales Tax on Texarkana Liquor Sales

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bill that would wipe out the sales tax exemption on whisky, beer and wine sold at Texarkana House today.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, would not affect the exemption enjoyed by Texarkana on other commodities.

Texarkana has been exempt from the sales tax since the law was passed in 1935. The exemption is to protect merchants on the Arkansas side of Texarkana, which border, Texas has no sales tax.

Gov. Orval Faubus told a news conference this morning that his administration also was preparing a bill that would provide no partial exemption from Arkansas' new 3 per cent sales tax.

Faubus said the bill principally would affect Fort Smith which adjoins Oklahoma with a 2 per cent sales tax.

Gov. Orval Faubus told a news conference this morning that his administration also was preparing a bill that would provide no partial exemption from Arkansas' new 3 per cent sales tax.

Faubus said the bill principally would affect Fort Smith which adjoins Oklahoma with a 2 per cent sales tax but might also apply to some smaller towns on the Missouri border.

Faubus said a second measure would remove the present sales tax exemption on whisky, wine and beer in Texarkana.

He pointed out that Bowie County, Tex., is dry and said there would be no problem of crossing the state line to avoid the sales tax.

The general sales tax exemption which Texarkana, Ark., has because it borders Texas would not be disturbed. Texas has no sales tax.

Sen. Jack Clark of Texarkana said removal of the sales tax exemption on alcoholic beverages "would cost the state money."

He said Texarkana people now go into Texas and Louisiana to buy whisky and beer. Removal of the exemption would encourage this practice to the point that the state would lose in liquor taxes more than it would gain in sales taxes, he said.

Clark said some Texarkana people now travel as far as Marshall, Tex., about 70 miles away, to buy their liquor.

Faubus Signs New Visiting Divorce Law

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Under a bill signed by Gov. Orval Faubus yesterday, out of state residents can obtain a divorce during a 90-day visit to Arkansas.

The measure had been criticized as helpful to "quickie divorces." It removes intention of permanent residence in Arkansas as a requirement for getting a decree.

Faubus said he did not think the new Act 36 would weaken the state's divorce laws, since "no one could get a divorce in Arkansas any quicker than he could before."

However, he said he would "personally favor" a new bill introduced by Rep. Carl Purnell of Jefferson County to require a 6-month residence in Arkansas.

The old law was aimed at preventing tourists from using Arkansas as a convenient place to get a divorce.

Sen. Fred H. Stafford of Macon, Texas, and Charles F. (Rip) Smith of West Memphis introduced the new signing measure.

Faubus told his news conference that bills introduced yesterday in the House to strengthen segregation laws still would permit school districts to integrate classes if they chose.

Committee Silent on Bath House Question

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The House committee on public health last night refused to make a recommendation on two opposite bills which would directly affect mass-sens working for the bathhouses in Hot Springs.

Both HB-113, by Rep. T. E. Tyler of Pulaski county, and HB-270 by Rep. Ray Smith of Garland County, were reported out without recommendation.

Tyler's bill is a clarification of the present massage registration act, and reduces the initial registration from $35 to $25, and subsequent annual fees from $7.50 to $5.00.

The resolution was introduced by Rep. Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, who previously made an unsuccessful effort to obtain an investigation of the PSC.

The report sought by Croxton would include gross revenues, net operating income, rate of return, total capitalization and other information of each utility involved, for the latest available 12-month period.

Apparently the data is of a nature that the PSC could furnish for its present records.

An unsuccessful effort was made to send the resolution to the Resolutions Committee for consideration.

After this motion was rejected, the House approved Croxton's motion for adoption of the resolution.

The House also adopted a resolution proposed by Rep. Sterling R. Cockrill Jr., of Pulaski County to commend the national AFL-CIO Executive Council for its recent threatened expulsion of three unions unless they "cleaned house."

The results of over 20 years work by interested citizens and civic groups in establishing and maintaining a library in Hope can be seen Thursday from 6 to 9 p. m. when the Hempstead County Library holds Open House.

Those years have seen the development of the library from a small collection of donated books, housed in the courtroom of the City Hall, to a fine, modern brick building at 5th and Elm, which now boasts some 23,000 books, and is currently receiving 40 magazines.

A large filmstrip collection and a projector, placed by the Audio-Visual Department of the State Board of Education is available for use by the county.

Mrs. J. A. Henry and Mrs. Arch Moore were most active during the early days of the library, and in February, 1940, interested residents of the county began to take advantage of the state aid then becoming available to county libraries.

Members of the first Hempstead County Library Board were: Mrs. John Wallace, Patmos, Mrs. J. A. Henry, Hope, Mrs. Joe Jackson, Washington, J. I. Lieblong, Fulton, A. B. Weatherington, Blevins, and Charles Reynerson, of Hope.

At that time, Frank Rider was Co. Judge, and Miss Elsie Weisenberger of Hope, was first Co-Librarian.

In 1948, the library moved into its present home, the building and site being a gift of Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Cannon. Other substantial contributors were N. P. and Earl O'Neal, brick and tile; B. W. Edwards, contractor; and D. F. Weaver, architect.

The Board of directors were Chairman J. I. Lieblong, E. R. Brown, Syd McMath, Charles Reynerson, and James H. Jones of Hope, Miss Mary Catts, Washington, Morgan Griffith, Guernsey, Norman Jones, Springhill, and J. R. Moaders, Blevins.

Hempstead County Library serves an area of 735 square miles, and maintains branches at Blevins, Fulton, Washington, and Columbus. In 1950 a panel truck was purchased to service the branches, schools, and deposits on a regular schedule. More recently, in 1954, Yarger Branch was established.

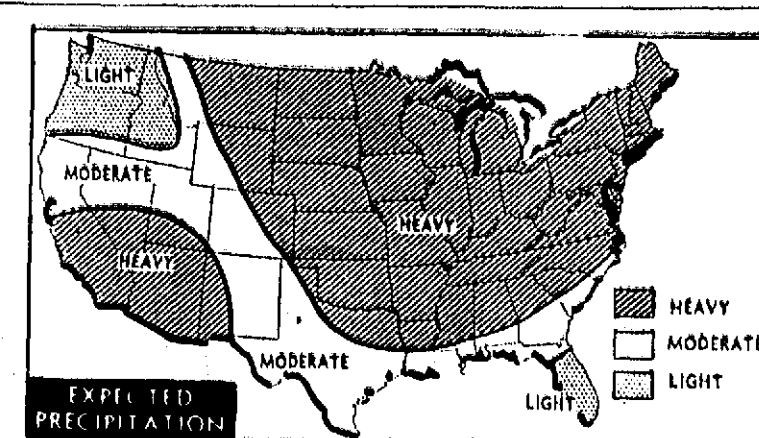

The Hope Junior Chamber of Commerce in its Operation Library project, has erected a sign for the library, and invites the citizens of Hempstead County to the Open House Thursday p. m. February 14th, to view firsthand the results of many years efforts in the development to this point of our county library.

Toy Used to Hold Up Liquor Store

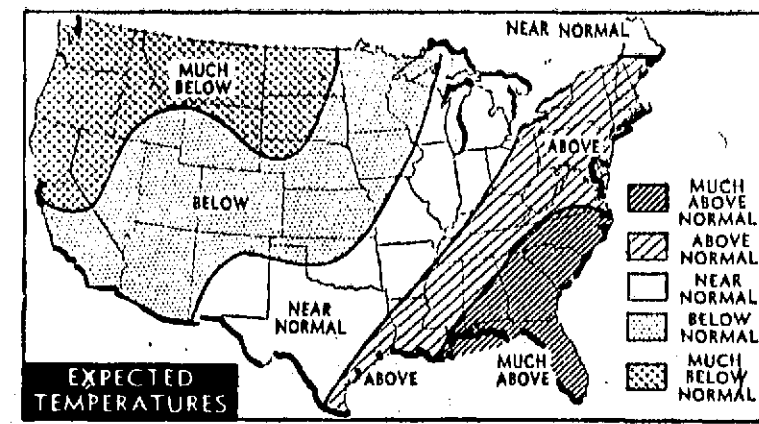

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A man who used a toy car pistol to hold up a liquor store here last night missed being shot by the woman attendant as he fled, but his luck did not hold. Police caught him several hours later.

Raymond Tuck, 29, of Little Rock was arrested by two city patrolmen who spotted a yellow truck answering description of one in which the holdup man got away.

The officers found a pearl-handled cap pistol in the vehicle and $80.15 behind the seat.

From now until March most of the country will be damp under excessive snow or rain. Only areas expected to enjoy unusually light downfalls are the Pacific Northwest and along the Gulf Coast.

Folks who live between the Atlantic Coast and a line drawn from the Great Lakes through central Texas can expect to bask in temperatures well above normal for the season. On the contrary, the West, and particularly the Northwest will shiver, with the thermometer lower than usual for February.

Fire Destroys Waldron Lbr. Co.

WALDRON (AP) — Fire swept through the Waldron Lumber Co. sawmill here early this morning burning it to the ground in about an hour.

T. M. Works, owner of the sawmill, estimate the loss at $100,000 and said the fire would force about 75 employees of the mill out of work.

The fire broke out about midnight and first was detected by a night watchman. The volunteer fire department at this small west Arkansas town managed to contain the blaze but was unable to extinguish it.

A butane tank containing about 2,000 gallons caught fire near the burning sawmill and spewed flames into the air.

There were no injuries reported. Works said he believed a short in the sawmill's electrical wiring caused the blaze.

Insurance will cover part of the loss, he said.

Life Termers Get Sentences Cut by Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Life sentences of three convicted murderers, including one man who also had served terms for robbery and kidnapping, were commuted by Gov. Orval Faubus yesterday.

The sentence of Emmett Norris, 57, was cut to 30 years. He was convicted in 1925 of killing a Mena couple, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Wilcox.

Gov. Tom Terral granted Norris an indefinite furlough in 1927 and four years later he was sentenced to 10 years in the Oklahoma penitentiary for robbery. Released on parole in 1937, he was convicted the following year on a kidnapping charge and started a 30-year sentence in Oklahoma.

When Norris was released again in 1952, it was learned that Terral's furlough had been revoked by a later Arkansas governor. Norris was returned to Arkansas to serve the remainder of his life term.

The other two life termers whose sentences were commuted were Charles Payne, convicted of kidnapping Dr. E. Gray at Winslow in 1938, and Gerald Ainsworth, of Craighead County, convicted of killing Fred Holder near Lake City in 1948. Payne's sentence was cut to 50 years and Ainsworth's to 27 years.

The commutations make three three eligible for early paroles. Eight other commutations of sentences also were granted yesterday.

3 File Here for Posts on School Board

The annual school election will be held Saturday, March 10, and three posts on the Hope District 1-A board are to be filled. Three candidates have filed for the posts and so far none have opposition.

Mrs. Frank King has filed for Post No. 3, currently held by Cliff Bridgers who will not seek reelection.

Sam McGill has filed for reelection to Post No. 1, and Dick Watkins, appointed to fill the unexpired term of Syvelle Burke, resigned, seeks a full three year term.

To place a name on the ballot for school director a petition must be signed by at least 20 electors of that school district designating the post for which he is running and the petition must be filed with the secretary of the County Board of Election Commission at least 20 days prior to the election which, in this case, is March 10.

Russia Proposes Hands-off Policy in Middle East

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (AP) Foreign Minister Dimitri Shepilov today proposed a mutual hands-off program in the Middle East, provided the Western Big Three abandons its military bases.

Shepilov told the Supreme Soviet, Russia's Parliament, that the Kremlin government had transmitted such a six-point proposal in notes handed last night to the ambassadors of the United States, Britain and France.

He said in effect that the Soviet Union is ready to stop sending arms to the Middle East if the Western powers will do likewise.

He said the most urgent Middle East question now was "the complete withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egyptian territory." He said his government also supports Egypt's "just demand for full compensation of the damage caused" by the British, French-Israeli invasion of Egypt.

Shepilov also lived his government up against with Cairo's demand that Egypt alone control and operate the Suez Canal. He said "law and justice are wholly on Egypt's side."

Shepilov said this six-point proposal had been made to the United States, Britain and France:

1. The maintenance of peace in the Near and Middle East through settling disputed questions exclusively by peaceful means by negotiations.

2. Non-interference in the internal affairs of the Near and Middle East; respect of the sovereignty and independence of these countries.

3. Renounce any attempts to include these countries in military blocs with the participation of the great powers a direct slap at the Western-sponsored Baghdad Pact but not at the Arab League alliance which Egypt has been promoting.

4. The liquidation of foreign bases and the withdrawal of foreign troops from the territories of the countries of the Near and Middle East.

5. The mutual renunciation of the supply of arms to countries of the Near and Middle East.

6. Cooperation toward the economic development of the countries of the Near and Middle East without making any political, military or other conditions whatsoever incompatible with the dignity and sovereignty of these countries.

These six points appeared to represent the Kremlin's answer to President Eisenhower's doctrine to stabilize the Middle East.

North Carolina Winner Thanks to Free Throws

By JOHN GRIFFIN. UP Sports Writer. How long can North Carolina get away with these hair-raising escapes?

For the second straight game, the nation's No. 1 team barely avoided disaster Saturday when it defeated Duke, 75-73, on Tommy Kearns' two free throws with 16 seconds left and tonight the Tar Heels will be trying to make their perfect record 19-0 when they visit Virginia.

North Carolina will be only one of six major conference leaders who will see court action tonight as the cage season goes into the "showdown" stage with the big post-season tournaments less than a month away.

Indiana of the Big Ten, Kentucky of the Southeastern Conference, Bradley of the Missouri Valley, Western Kentucky of the Ohio Valley, and Hardin-Simmons of the Border Conference all will be risking their records. But two straight squeakers put the spotlight for the moment on North Carolina, with experts wondering whether recent eligibility losses have seriously undermined the Tar Heels.

On Tuesday night, Carolina was forced into a double-overtime to beat Maryland, 65-61, being saved by Kearns' basket in the fading seconds of regulation time. On Saturday, Kearns, who had lost the ball several times in the final two minutes as Duke scored eight straight points to tie, 73-73, atoned by sinking his winning pair of free throws with just those 16 seconds remaining. Len Rosenbluth had scored 35 points for the Tar Heels to keep them in front until then.

Virginia tonight represents the first of six hurdles still standing between North Carolina, the nation's only major unbeaten team, and a perfect season. Two of them are with mighty dangerous Wake Forest, the first this Wednesday night.

The upset lightning that grazed North Carolina struck down four of the nation's highest-ranking teams Saturday.

Southern Methodist (No. 4) was upset by Texas Tech, 68-67, when it was outscored 12-0 over the last five minutes; UCLA (No. 5) 62.

Pre Basketball Sunday's Results. Boston 103, Philadelphia 93 (overtime). Syracuse 109, New York 100. Fort Wayne 113, Minneapolis 100. St. Louis 17, Rochester 93 (5-0).

Vacationing Ike Watches News

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) President Eisenhower is continuing to mix vacation with a close watch on the Israeli-Egyptian crisis.

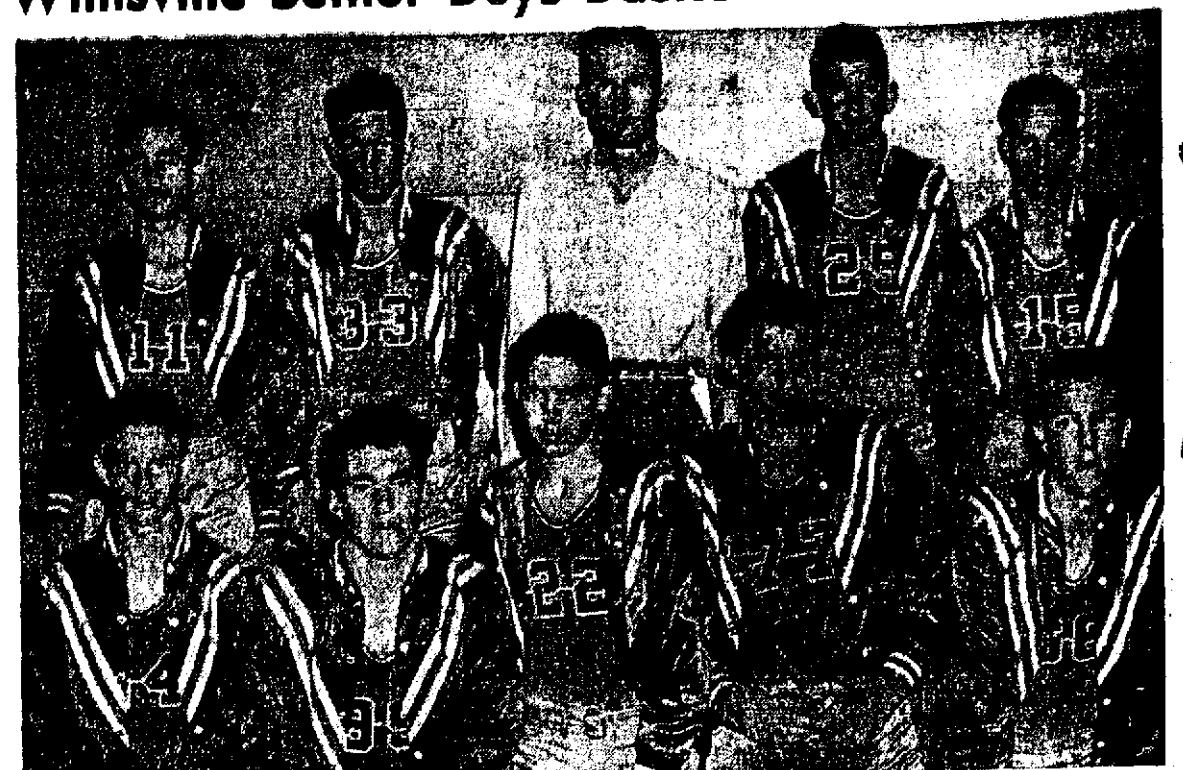

The President hopes to get in another round of quail hunting today at the plantation estate of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, his host. And golf is a possibility too.

Aides said the recreation would wait, though, until the President had dealt with a batch of official papers flown from Washington. Included in the pouch are documents on several nominations he will be sending to the Senate this week.

Yesterday Eisenhower talked to Secretary of State Dulles long distance for the third time since he arrived last Friday.

A White House spokesman declined comment on reports that the United States is about to make a

Two Dead in Gun Battle in Tennessee

JELICO, Tenn. (AP) - Puzzled officers sought today to learn why a grocer, recently flooded out of Pikeville, Ky., started a fatal gun battle with two deputy sheriffs near here Saturday night.

Deputy Matt Parton, 64, died Saturday night. Deputy Brownlow Munday, about 60, lost his arm. Elmer Davis, 43, identified as the assailant, died in a hospital yesterday without explaining his actions or why he was carrying $3,000 in cash.

"We were not looking for him and had never even spoken to him," said Munday at a hospital here after his arm had been amputated at the elbow.

The officers were taken by surprise when their assailant walked up to their jeep as it was parked outside a tavern southeast of this Kentucky-Tennessee border town, pointed a shotgun and told them: "Don't move an inch or I will shoot."

Munday said Parton jumped out of the jeep and as he ran around battle with two deputy sheriffs near here Saturday night. Deputy Matt Parton, 64, died Saturday night. Dock Strike Is Threatened

NEW YORK (AP) - Contract talks to avert a threatened dockworkers' strike tomorrow from Maine to Virginia collapsed last night. The strike would idle 45,000 longshoremen.

Union spokesmen said the breakdown in negotiations between the Independent International Longshoremen's Assn. and the New York Shipping Assn. made it virtually certain that the strike will begin at 5 p. m. tomorrow.

That is the hour a Tall-Hatley injunction expires and longshoremen will be free to resume a strike that was halted after nine days last November. The injunction was obtained by the federal government.

Louis Waldman, ILA general counsel, emerged last night from the Federal mediation session of an announcement that talks were stalled between the longshoremen and the employers.

"There is no hope whatever of a settlement before 8 p. m. Tuesday," he declared. "If there is no settlement there is no alternative but to a strike."

Israel Has No Comment on U. S. Proposal

JERUSALEM (AP) Israeli Foreign Ministry officials had no comment today on the new U. S. proposal to get Israel's troops out of the Gaza Strip and Egyptian territory along the Gulf of Aqaba.

A spokesman said the proposal, made yesterday by Secretary of State Dulles to Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban, had not yet been received officially.

He added that no official reaction would be available until Eban's report had been received and studied.

The Israeli press assumed that the possibility of the U. N. General Assembly calling for actions against Israel had subsided for the time being as a result of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's warning against such action.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) The United States sought today a quick answer from Israel to an American compromise proposal for breaking the deadlock over withdrawal of remaining Israeli troops from Egypt.

The plan was presented to Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban yesterday by Secretary of State Dulles, reportedly with a request for a prompt reply which could come today or tomorrow.

The compromise would provide for an immediate United States declaration of support for free navigation of the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli and all other ships, and for American backing of United Nations action to secure Israeli withdrawal from the Gaza Strip.

Israel had announced it would not withdraw from the two areas until it had assurances that (1) Egypt would not block Israeli ships from using the Gulf of Aqaba to the Red Sea and (2) there would be no more Egyptian troops on Israel from the Gaza Strip.

Group to Ask Extension of Highway 53

There will be a meeting of the Highway 53 Committee Wednesday Feb. 13 at 7 p. m. according to T. J. Silvey, Chairman of the committee.

Everyone interested in getting Highway 53 extended to Highway 82 South is invited to attend the meeting which will be held at Bodewag School.

Representatives from Prescott, Bodewag, Falcon, Buckner, Stamps, Millville, Magnolia, will be present.

This road furnishes service for 207,000 broilers on feed, 15,000 hens, several oil wells, 350 farm families and for interests going north and south between Highway 67 and 82. Highway 53 ends at Bodewag now. By extending it to connect the two primary roads it would make Highway 53 a much more valuable highway.

Aviation Service Involved in Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Kenneth Starnes, operator of a Little Rock aviation service, contends a $170,000 suit filed in connection with a plane crash at Russellville last year contains, vague charges.

Mr. Douglas C. Shelton, 33, of Little Rock, filed the suit Jan. 23 in Pulaski Circuit Court. He was riding in a light plane which crashed at Russellville July 15, 1955, killing veteran pilot Rex Pierce Hayes of Little Rock.

Shelton suffered injuries in the crash. Starnes filed a motion yesterday asking that the plaintiff be directed to clarify charges in an amended complaint. Some of the charges could have referred to either Hayes or himself, Starnes said. One charge alleged that Hayes was "not qualified to fly and that his employer, Starnes, was negligent in allowing him to pilot the plane."

First thing you know, along came a train. Well, said Mrs. Young, the cars in front couldn't move. The cars in back couldn't move. So she and the five young children in the car made a run for it.

The train smashed into the car, sending it tumbling along the tracks for 60 feet. About that time, said Mrs. Young, the school bus and the car that had blocked her way drove off.

No one was hurt, Mrs. Young said the only bright spot in the whole affair was "I had insurance."

New Addition to Lincoln Collection

By JOHN B. KNOX

BOSTON (AP) — Abraham Lincoln, warrior and war-torn, carried a chair out of the White House one morning a month before his assassination and posed for a picture to please his young son "Tad."

The 92-year-old first print of that picture — by a Waltham, Mass., photographer — is a new addition to Boston University's big collection of Lincolniana. The tale of how it was made adds an intimate human paragraph to the story of Lincoln as a father.

The picture, with two other new Lincoln collection additions, are displayed for the first time by the university's Cheney Library in observance of the anniversary of Lincoln's birth. One of the additions is a photograph of Boston Corbett, photographed shortly after Corbett shot the assassin of Lincoln, John Wilkes Booth. The other is an album with photographs of Lincoln which some of his associates sold to help raise money at an Iowa fair in 1864 for sick and wounded soldiers.

From the donor of the memoirs, Dean Emeritus Melvin M. Johnson of the B. U. Law School, come the stories of how the Lincoln picture happened to be made, of the autograph album, how the Corbett picture was made, and the role Johnson's father played in connection with all three.

Bottom Falls Out of Bahama Ghost Industry

By HAL BOYLE

ANDROS TOWN, Bahamas (AP) The bottom has fallen out of the ghost rental industry here.

At the moment every ghost in the stable of Constable Boyd, who has built up a monopoly in the spook-renting field, is unemployed. "Mon, nobody seems to want to pay a fair price for one," cheerfully gumbled the venerable constable. "They expect a ghost to work for nothing but rice and pigeon peas."

Dealing in the renting and selling of guaranteed, grade-A haunting ghosts — this thing for "the man who has everything" — is actually merely a sideline with Constable Boyd.

But his reported power over spectral spirits — no one knows just when he set up his ghostly employment agency — may explain

Asks Sales Tax on Texarkana Liquor Sales

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bill that would wipe out the sales tax exemption on whiskey, beer and wine sold at Texarkana House today.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Paul Van Dalsen of Perry County, would not affect the exemption enjoyed by Texarkana on other commodities.

Texarkana has been exempt from the state sales tax since the law was passed in 1935. The exemption is to protect merchants on the Arkansas side of Texarkana, which border Texas has no sales tax.

Gov. Orval Faubus told a news conference this morning that his administration also was preparing a bill that would provide no partial exemption from Arkansas' new 3 per cent sales tax.

Faubus said the bill principally would affect Fort Smith which adjoins Oklahoma with a 2 per cent sales tax.

Gov. Orval Faubus told a news conference this morning that his administration also was preparing a bill that would provide no partial exemption from Arkansas' new 3 per cent sales tax.

Faubus said the bill principally would affect Fort Smith which adjoins Oklahoma with a 2 per cent sales tax but might also apply to some smaller towns on the Missouri border.

Faubus said a second measure would remove the present sales tax exemption on whiskey, wine and beer in Texarkana.

He pointed out that Bowie County, Tex., is dry and said there would be no problem of crossing the state line to avoid the sales tax.

The general sales tax exemption which Texarkana, Ark., has because it borders Texas would not be disturbed. Texas has no sales tax.

Sen. Jek Clark of Texarkana said removal of the sales tax exemption on alcoholic beverages "would cost the state money."

He said Texarkana people now go into Texas and Louisiana to buy whiskey and beer. Removal of the exemption would encourage this practice to the point that the state would lose in liquor taxes more than it would gain in sales taxes, he said.

Clark said some Texarkana people now travel as far as Marshall, Tex., about 70 miles away, to buy their liquor.

Faubus Signs New Visiting Divorce Law

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Under a bill signed by Gov. Orval Faubus yesterday, out of state residents can obtain a divorce during a 90-day visit to Arkansas.

The measure had been criticized as helpful to "quickie divorces." It removes intention of permanent residence in Arkansas as a requirement for getting a decree.

Faubus said he did not think the new Act 30 would weaken the state's divorce laws, since "no one could get a divorce in Arkansas any quicker than he could before."

However, he said he would "personally favor" a new bill introduced by Rep. Carl Fumell of Jefferson County to require a 6-month residence in Arkansas.

The old law was aimed at preventing tourists from using Arkansas as a convenient place to get a divorce.

Sens. Fred H. Stafford of Marked Tree and Charles E. (Rip) Smith of West Memphis introduced the newly signed measure.

Faubus told his news conference that bills introduced yesterday in the House to strengthen segregation laws will would permit school districts to integrate classes if they chose.

why for 40 years Constable Boyd has had little trouble carrying out his official duties as a peace officer on this largest island of the Bahamas, where remnants of "black magic" still flourish.

The slender, griz mustachioed constable, who looks like he could be either 32 or 162, has been known to fly to Nassau with natives under arrest, even for murder, without bothering to handcuff them. The prisoners realize it would be easy to overpower him. But who could whip his stable of ghosts?

A gentle, kindly old man whose mind is a reservoir of superstitions folklore handed down from the slave days, Constable Boyd plays many roles. Any tourist who tries to make a joke of the const-

Committee Silent on Bath House Question

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The House committee on public health last night refused to make a recommendation on two opposite bills which would directly affect mass-measure working for the bathhouses in Hot Springs.

Both HB-113, by Rep. T. E. Tyler of Pulaski county, and HB-270 by Rep. Ray Smith of Garland County, were reported out without recommendation.

Tyler's bill is a clarification of the present massage registration act, and reduces the initial registration from $35 to $25, and subsequent annual fees from $7.50 to $5.00.

Resolution Asks PSC for Data on Utility Rates

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The House today adopted a resolution directing the state Public Service Commission to furnish financial information on all electric and gas utilities in Arkansas plus the five largest water utilities and the 10 largest telephone companies.

The resolution was introduced by Rep. Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, who previously made an unsuccessful effort to obtain an investigation of the PSC.

The report sought by Croxton would include gross revenues, net operating income, rate of return, total capitalization and other information of each utility involved, for the latest available 12-month period.

Apparently the data is of a nature that the PSC could furnish from its present records.

An unsuccessful effort was made to send the resolution to the Resolutions Committee for consideration.

After this motion was rejected, the House approved Croxton's motion for adoption of the resolution.

The House also adopted a resolution proposed by Rep. Sterling R. Cockrill Jr. of Pulaski County to commend the national AFL-CIO Executive Council for its recent threatened expulsion of three unions unless they "cleaned house."

Fugitive Gives Up After Bout With Woman

KINGMAN, Ariz., (AP) — The escaped convict surrendered to sheriff's officers last night after a 73-year-old spinster ordered him out of a parsonage where he had fled during a blazing gun battle.

"I didn't want to see him shot," Miss Louise Freedland said. "He probably would have bloodied up my favorite chair."

Sheriff's officers identified the man as Charles E. Turner 34, an escapee from Ft. Leavenworth federal prison last June. He told officers he had been sent to Leavenworth on an "Army rap from Japan."

With Turner was Joyce Hitchcock, 17, of Helena, Mont., who told officers she was forced to accompany him on a four — state trip after he abducted her at gunpoint last Thursday.

Sheriff Frank L. Porter said Turner admitted in a signed statement that he kidnapped the girl, Miss Hitchcock, "an attractive brunette, told police that Turner raped her, that Turner committed several burglaries en route to Arizona."

Policeman, Stephen Smith, who had been alerted last night to watch for Turner's car, said he tried to stop Turner as he drove into Kingman. Smith said Turner began firing at him.

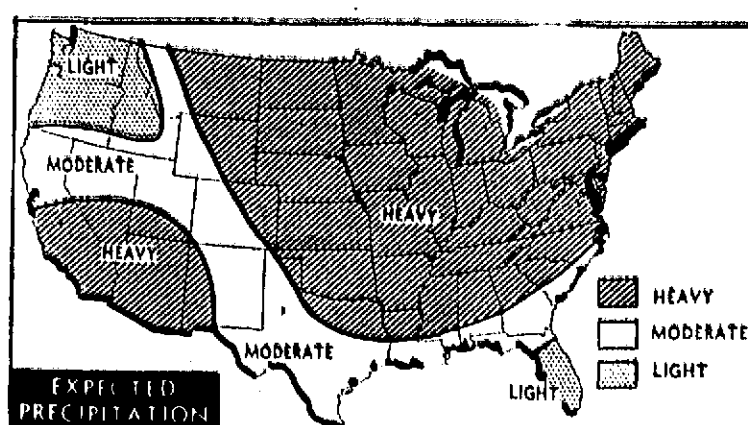

Sinatra Tour to Prove Costly

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The tour he didn't make will cost Frank Sinatra "in excess of $75,000."

That's the estimate of promoter Lee Gordon, who booked Sinatra and a troupe of 12 entertainers and musicians for what was to be a three-week tour of Australia and the Philippine Islands.

Gordon said that he and the singer's business manager, Hank Sanicola, reached an agreement whereby Sinatra will pay for all expenses incurred.

He said Sinatra has agreed to make the tour later this year, possibly in October. Sinatra cancelled his scheduled appearance after a dispute in Honolulu over airline tickets to Australia.

From now until March most of the country will be damp under excessive snow or rain. Only areas expected to enjoy unusually light downfall are the Pacific Northwest and along the Gulf Coast.

Folks who live between the Atlantic Coast and a line drawn from the Great Lakes through central Texas can expect to bask to temperatures well above normal for the season. On the contrary, the West and particularly the Northwest will shiver, with the thermometer lower than usual for February.

Library Open House Set for 6-9 p.m. Thursday

The results of over 20 years work by interested citizens and civic groups in establishing and maintaining a library in Hope can be seen Thursday from 6 to 9 p. m. when the Hempstead County Library holds Open House.

These years have seen the development of the library from a small collection of donated books, housed in the courtroom of the City Hall, to a fine, modern brick building at 5th and Elm, which now boasts some 23,000 books, and is currently receiving 40 magazines.

A large filmstrip collection and a projector, placed by the Audio-Visual Department of the State Board of Education is available for use by the county.

Mrs. J. A. Henry and Mrs. Arch Moore were most active during the early days of the library, and in February, 1940, interested residents of the county began to take advantage of the state aid then becoming available to county libraries.

Members of the first Hempstead County Library Board were: Mrs. John Wallace, Patmos, Mrs. J. A. Henry, Hope, Mrs. Joe Jackson, Washington, J. I. Liebling, Fulton, A. B. Weatherington, Blevins, and Charles Reynerson, of Hope. At that time, Frank Rider was Co. Judge, and Miss Elsie Weisenberger of Hope, was first Co-Librarian.

In 1948, the library moved into its present home, the building and site being a gift of Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Cannon. Other substantial contributors were N. P. and Earl O'Neal, brick and tile; B. F. Edwards, contractor; and D. F. Weaver, architect.

The Board of directors were: Chairman J. I. Liebling, E. R. Brown, Syd McMath, Charles Reynerson, and James H. Jones of Hope, Miss Mary Catts, Washington, Morgan Griffith, Guernsey, Norman Jones, Springfield, and J. R. Meadors, Blevins.

Hempstead County Library serves an area of 735 square miles, and maintains branches at Blevins, Fulton, Washington, and Columbus. In 1950 a panel truck was purchased to service the branches, schools, and deposits on a regular schedule. More recently, in 1954, Yerger Branch was established.

The Hope Junior Chamber of Commerce in its Operation Library project, has erected a sign for the library, and invites the citizens of Hempstead County to the Open House Thursday 6 p. m. February 14th, to view firsthand the results of many years efforts in the development to this point of our county library.

Toy Used to Hold Up Liquor Store

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A man who used a toy car pistol to hold up a liquor store here last night missed being shot by the woman attendant as he fled, but his luck did not hold. Police caught him several hours later.

Raymond Tuck, 29, of Little Rock was arrested by two city patrolmen who spotted a yellow truck answering description of one in which the holdup man got away.

The officers found a pearl-handled cap pistol in the vehicle and $38.15 behind the seat.

Fire Destroys Waldron Lbr. Co.

WALDRON (AP) — Fire swept through the Waldron Lumber Co., sawmill here early this morning burning it to the ground in about an hour.

T. M. Works, owner of the sawmill, estimate the loss at $100,000 and said the fire would force about 7 employees of the mill out of work.

The fire broke out about midnight and first was detected by a night watchman. The volunteer fire department at this small west Arkansas town managed to contain the blaze but was unable to extinguish it.

A butane tank containing about 2,000 gallons caught fire near the burning sawmill and spewed flames into the air.

There were no injuries reported. Works said he believed a short in the sawmill's electrical wiring caused the blaze.

Insurance will cover part of the loss, he said.

Life Termers Get Sentences Cut by Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Life sentences of three convicted murderers, including one man who also had served terms for robbery and kidnapping, were commuted by Gov. Orval Faubus yesterday.

The sentence of Emmett Norris, 57, was cut to 30 years. He was convicted in 1925 of killing a Mena couple, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Wilcox.

Gov. Tom Terral granted Norris an indefinite furlough in 1927 and four years later he was sentenced to 10 years in the Oklahoma penitentiary for robbery. Released on parole in 1937, he was convicted the following year on a kidnapping charge and started a 30-year sentence in Oklahoma.

When Norris was released again in 1952, it was learned that Terral's furlough had been revoked by a later Arkansas governor. Norris was returned to Arkansas to serve the remainder of his murder sentence.

The other two life-termers whose sentences were commuted were Charles Payne, convicted of kidnapping Dr. E. Gray at Winslow in 1938, and Gerald Ainsworth of Craighead County, convicted of killing Fred Holder near Lake City in 1940. Payne's sentence was cut to 50 years and Ainsworth's to 27 years.

"The commutations make these three eligible for early paroles. Eight other commutations of sentences also were granted yesterday."

3 File Here for Posts on School Board

The annual school election will be held Saturday, March 16, and three posts on the Hope District I-A board are to be filled. Three candidates have filed for the posts and so far none have opposition.

Mrs. Frank King has filed for Post No. 3, currently held by Cliff Bygones who will not seek reelection.

Sam McGill has filed for reelection to Post No. 1, and Dick Watkins, appointed to fill the unexpired term of Syvelle Burke, resigned, seeks a full three year term.

To place a name on the ballot for school director a petition must be signed by at least 20 electors of that school district designating the post for which he is running and the petition must be filed with the secretary of the County Board of Election Commission at least 20 days prior to the election which, in this case, is March 16.

Russia Proposes Hands-off Policy in Middle East

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (AP) Foreign Minister Dimitri Shepilov today proposed a mutual hands-off program in the Middle East, provided the Western Big Three abandons its military bases.

Shepilov told the Supreme Soviet, Russia's Parliament, that the Kremlin government had transmitted such a six-point proposal in notes handed last night to the ambassadors of the United States, Britain and France.

He said in effect that the Soviet Union is ready to stop sending arms to the Middle East if the Western powers will do likewise.

He said the most urgent Middle East question now was "the complete withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egyptian territory." He said his government also supports Egypt's "just demand for full compensation of the damage caused" by the British, French-Israeli invasion of Egypt.

Shepilov also lined his government up against with Cairo's demand that Egypt alone control and operate the Suez Canal. He said "law and justice are wholly on Egypt's side."

Shepilov said this six-point proposal had been made to the United States, Britain and France.

1. The maintenance of peace in the Near and Middle East through settling disputed questions exclusively by peaceful means by negotiations.

2. No interference in the internal affairs of the Near and Middle East; respect of the sovereignty and independence of these countries.

3. Renounce any attempts to include these countries in military blocs with the participation of the great powers a direct slap at the Western-sponsored Baghdad Pact but not at the Arab League alliance which Egypt has been promoting.

4. The liquidation of foreign bases and the withdrawal of foreign troops from the territories of the countries of the Near and Middle East.

5. The mutual renunciation of the supply of arms to countries of the Near and Middle East.

6. Cooperation toward the economic development of the countries of the Near and Middle East without making any political, military or other conditions whatsoever incompatible with the dignity and sovereignty of these countries.

These six points appeared to represent the Kremlin's answer to President Eisenhower's doctrine to stabilize the Middle East.

for the 1955-57 biennium. The bill now goes to the House.

The measure includes $20,000 for preliminary costs in the acquisition of land for the state park system. The prospective state park areas include Rich Mountain near Mena and Bear Creek and Storm Creek near Marianna.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Tom Allen of Brinkley, provides $21,500 for literature and tourist facilities, $12,000 for parks maintenance and repairs, and $10,600 for temporary employees in both the parks and publicity agencies.

The upper chamber approved a bill by Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton to require the Medical Center to provide for the enrollment of 120 medical students by 1959-60. The first 90 students would be apportioned among the congressional districts. Priority would be given to students who agree to practice after graduation in a community of 2,000 or less. The remaining 30 students would be selected without reference to congressional district.

Both houses adopted a resolution to set up a Senate-House committee which would determine if a way can be found to get an immediate raise for classroom school teachers. Collection of the 3-cent sales tax will begin this week, but Gov. Orval Faubus said the raises for teachers probably would not take effect until the beginning for the new school year next fall.

The Senate gave its approval for the second time to a water bill sponsored by Sen. Marvin Melton of Jonesboro. The measure, which sets up a Water Conservation Commission which would have the authority to issue permits for the construction of dams, previously had been approved, but this act was expunged from the record at Melton's request.

Melton attacked two amendments which set out the rights of the commission more clearly in order to meet objections that had been raised.

The vote was 27-2 as compared to 24-3 the first time around. An immediate report of any violent or unusual death at a state institution would be required under a bill passed by the Senate unanimously and sent to the House. It was introduced by Sen. J. O. Porter of Mulberry, who deplored the failure of the State Hospital to report a death there some months ago.

Four anti-integration measures, bearing the pre-introduction blessing of Gov. Orval Faubus, reached the House late yesterday.

The bills, including one apparently designed to place the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People under strict regulation and another for a state Sovereignty Commission, were signed by 27 representatives, more than one-fourth the House's membership of 100. Rep. Lucien Rogers of Cliftonden headed the list of signers on each bill.

The other two bills would forbid forcing any pupil to attend a racially mixed school and would empower local school districts to employ and pay attorneys in court suits.

The bills would supplement a constitutional amendment calling for "interposition," a similar but somewhat milder resolution and a pupil assignment act, all adopted by popular vote at the November 1956 general election.

All three were designed to avoid or postpone school integration in spite of U. S. Supreme Court rulings. The resolution and act were sponsored by Faubus.

The bill apparently aimed at the NAACP would require reports of contributions and expenditures from organizations, advocating integration and federal legislation to take "control" of Arkansas schools from the local districts.

These reports would be made under oath to the Sovereignty Commission, proposed in a separate bill, and would be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1952.

Punishment of as much as 12 months imprisonment and a fine of $5,000 would be provided for violations.

The Sovereignty Commission would be authorized to do anything "necessary and proper" to protect the sovereignty of the state of Arkansas, and her sister states, from encroachment there on by

Group Trying to Rewrite Ike's Program

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — A joint Senate committee undertakes revision of President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution today with Republicans predicting its ultimate Senate adoption by a wide margin. The Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees completed hearings on the measure yesterday.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said he thinks the joint committee can agree by tomorrow night on a resolution acceptable to the administration.

The federal government. The commission could subpoena and examine records of individuals and organizations in connection with an investigation.

Definition of the authority in this section would be punishable by a maximum $1,000 fine and a maximum jail sentence of six months.

The House in a brief session, passed a bill to eliminate school election days from those on which liquor stores must be closed and another measure to provide for taking of the school enumeration during April rather than from April 15 to May 15.

A bill to provide that the circuit judge, the chancellor and the county judge each appoint one member of the 3-member commissions which select jurors in the 18th Circuit, composed of Garland and Montgomery counties, failed to pass. As in other circuits, the circuit judge now appoints all commissioners. Formal notice that the bill would be called later for reconsideration was given.

A bill to place a $55 a month minimum base for payments to welfare clients was withdrawn temporarily from consideration because some members said they wanted a fuller explanation.

The House will hear from Assistant Welfare Commissioner A. J. Moss on the matter Thursday.

lation, and that for debate can start Monday.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), said the resolution will be subjected to much criticism in formal Senate debate, "but when the showdown comes, I don't believe there will be more than 20 of the 98 Senate votes against it."

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), in a separate interview, said many Democrats will be "forced to support the resolution rather than reject the President's request in a critical period."

"But it will undergo substantial revision before it reaches the Senate floor to get it in better shape," Sparkman added.

As approved by the House, the resolution would authorize the President to use U. S. military forces to combat any overt Communist aggression in the Middle East against nations which request U. S. help.

It would also authorize him to spend up to 200 million dollars in available foreign aid money in the area.

Premature debate broke out in the Senate yesterday when Sen. Long (D-La.) accused Secretary of State Dulles of having told a "falsehood" to the joint committee which heard him testify for six days.

Long based the charge on what he said were Dulles' negative replies to questions whether he "had given thought" to the presidential authority under which U. S. troops were sent to Iceland in World War II and to Korea in 1950.

"I know of no more deceptive person in public life than John Foster Dulles," Sen. Morse (D-Ore.)

ARKANSAN DIES
MEMPHIS (AP) — R. Seldon Lady Jr., 57, Harrisburg, Ark., merchant and former Poinsett County court clerk, died yesterday at a hospital here.

Founded in 1843, El Dorado has been the center of the petroleum industry in Arkansas since oil was discovered here in 1921. All phases of the industry from drilling to refining may be seen in Union County.

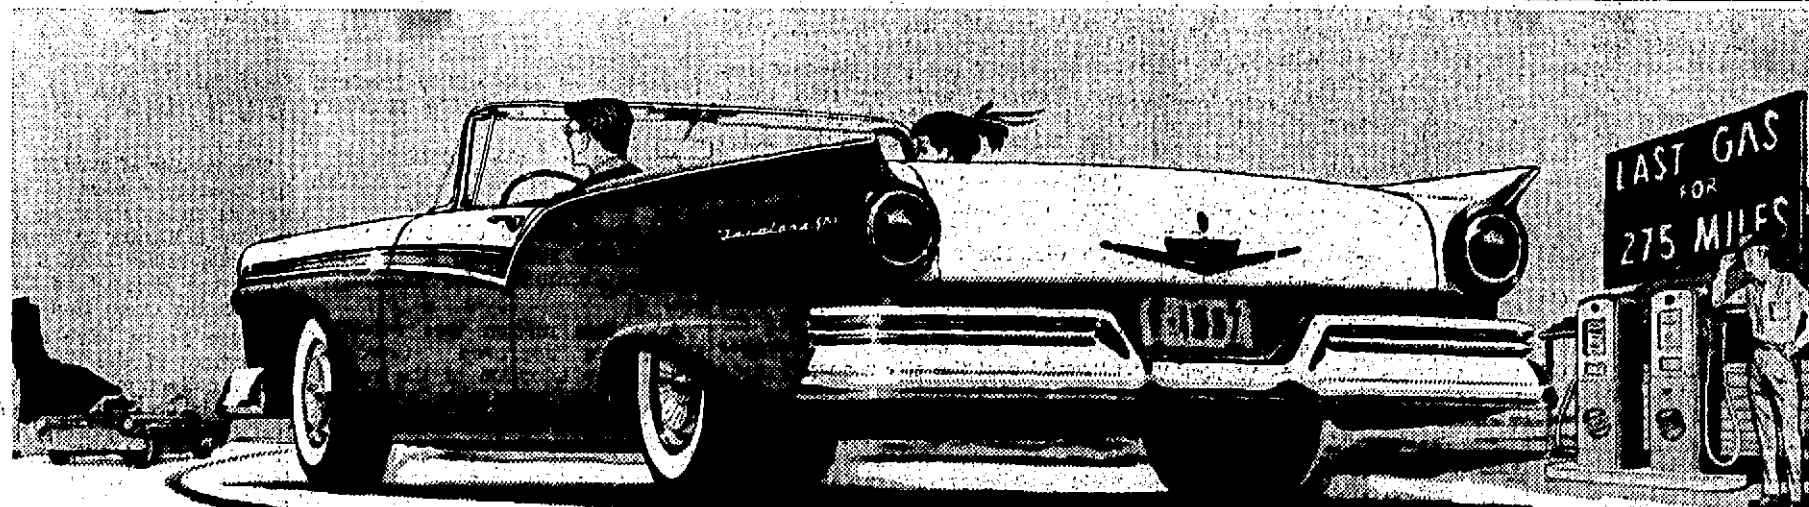

But Uen, Saltonstall (R-Mass.) replied that "I have yet to see an instance" in which Dulles ever "tried to deceive Congress or wanted to."

Sen. Bush (R-Conn.) described Dulles as "a very noble gentleman."

DOROTHY DIX

In-Laws Refuse All Invitations

Dear Dorothy Dix: My best friend was married a year ago, at 16. She's mature for her age, has looks, poise and charm. At first they lived with her parents, and then set up housekeeping. However, the boy seemed frightened at the idea of maintaining a household, and left. He's back with his parents; she's with her folks. He comes to see her occasionally, never offers money, although he has a very good job.

I think she should press charges of non-support, and stop seeing him until he gets a sense of responsibility. The girl is still attending school, from which she graduates in June. She's top student in her class. She says she intends to be patient, and he'll come back, in time, ready to settle down.

LEILA
Dear Leila: It's nice that you're such a sympathetic friend, but suppose you leave the advice-giving to someone else. Your friend is doing all right on her own. She acquired an immature husband and is waiting for him to grow up. Hers is not the flash-in-the-pan type of love, but deep, lasting devotion that is willing to wait, wait and endure for achievement. Instead of discouraging her, give her all the understanding help you can muster. That's being a true friend.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My boy friend is in the Air Force, and is stationed at a base near my home. His parents live about three hundred miles away, and every chance he gets he goes home. We only date during the week.

MAGGIE
Dear Maggie: Could it be that his parents aren't the only attraction in his home town? Maybe there's a gal waiting for him, too. Don't select the living-room furniture until you're sure the field is clear, and above all, don't possessive about a lad you've met casually.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am very friendly with neighbors somewhat older than myself. Frequently I have asked them for advice, but have never offered any. I play the role of good listener, never giving opinions and never offering solutions to problems, through sometimes I think I have them.

P. N.
Dear P. N.: Your attitude doesn't seem very friendly. People might as well talk to a stick. I'm sure you can judge whether your opinion or advice are wanted. If you think they'd be welcome, express yourself.

Dear Dorothy Dix: The man I love is single, but living with another woman. I'm sure if I try I can get him away from her. He has been very attentive to me, and we have been on a few dates.

BUNNY
Dear Bunny: Of course you can lure the man away from her, you sweet thing. Naturally, someone will get him away from you in due course, but that's another problem. The mystery is, why should anyone want him in the first place?

Children See Mother Shot to Death

LITTLE ROCK IN — While her two children watched, a young mother was killed by a shotgun blast at her home last night and police arrested her husband in connection with the slaying. L. P. Johnson, 35, an itinerant painter-laborer, was held in Pulaski County Jail here on an open charge after police found the body of his wife, Mrs. Lathelle Brown Johnson, 26, lying on the floor of their 2-room apartment.

The couple's children, James Earl, 9, and 7-year-old Helen Louise, witnessed the shooting from their bed.

Johnson told officers he had quarreled with his wife over her attentions to other men, that she declared she would see any man she wished to and so he told her "this was the end." Police quoted him as saying he shot her in the left eye with a single barrel shotgun. Then, he said, he covered her with a sheet and sent the children to a neighbor's apartment.

The family moved to Little Rock from near Texarkana about two months ago.

The oldest civil engineering project which is still being used is in the Shamiram aqueduct in Turkey. It was built the 8th Century, B. C.

THE STORY: Texas cowboys who have driven cattle over the long trail to Pawnee City, Kan., are shooting up the town.

CHAPTER XIV

Cass Simcoe was looking at some dress goods. Glass crashed and a wild bullet tore the bolt of material from Cass's hands.

"You got a gun, Mister? I'll show them some shootin'!"

Tarbox stared at her in astonishment.

"I don't carry them. The hardware store—"

"Darn this dress," said Cass, looking down at Helen Jagger's dress.

"A person can't rightly carry a gun they're wearin' something like this," she winced.

"Here they come back!"

Tarbox ducked down behind a counter.

In the Longhorn Saloon, the half-dozen customers were sheltered behind the bar. With one exception, Chad Morgan. He stood by the broken window looking out upon the street. The cowboys were receding up the street and Joe Jagger took the occasion to come out of the bank across the street and rush for the Longhorn.

Joe Jagger sent a quick look around, picked out a man wearing a dirty white apron, the swamper of the Longhorn. "You, Mose, get a horse and ride south of town. Find Pete Mossman and tell him his boys are cutting up."

The swamper began taking off his apron. "Mr. Jagger, I just quit

my job."

Morgan signaled to Blake, the manager. "Have you got a gun, Mr. Blake?"

"Only a scatter-gun," replied the manager of the Longhorn.

"And a Navy gun—"

"Give me the Navy gun!"

But then it was too late. The cowboys had shot up the south end of town and were coming back—at a full gallop. Yelling and shooting.

The cowboys were past the saloon then.

Blake raised his head tentatively above the bar level. He held a revolver in his hand. Morgan caught it, turned for the door.

Morgan stepped to the edge of the sidewalk, his right hand grasping the Navy gun dangling at his side.

A step on the wooden sidewalk caused him to shoot a quick glance over his shoulder. Tom Alder was coming out of the barber shop next door.

He said, as he came up, "They'll kill you, Morgan."

Morgan said, "It's not your fight, Alder."

"I'm not fighting. My gun's in my holster and it's going to stay there. Besides . . . I'm one of them."

"You killed a Texas man last night. That's what started them off."

"Maybe that's why I'm out here now."

The drunken Texas men were starting their horses back for another run.

And now Helen Jagger stepped out of the bank across the street.

She took a quick look toward the hotel, saw the Texas men bearing down on her and panicked. Instead of whirling back into the bank, she started across the street . . . running.

"Lookit the Yankee sweet-heart!"

"I seen her first!"

Helen saw she could not make it across the street and stopped dead in her tracks. A skidding horse being jerked to a violent stop almost knocked her over.

Another horse went past her, was stopped so violently it reared up. A third horse did strike her, knocking her to her knees.

Before she could get up, Brog, the towhead, had hit the ground and was rearing for Helen.

Behind the towhead, a gun roared and a bullet whistled past the Texas man's ear.

He let go of Helen, whirled, his hand going automatically for the gun he had holstered. It could be swiveled quickly toward any of the Texas men.

Helen had distracted all of the Texas men. Several of them still had their guns in their hands, but they were caught flat-footed, as were those who had put away their guns.

Of course they could draw . . . if anyone wanted to draw against a man who had come out deliberately into the open against a dozen wild, drunken Texas men.

Morgan said to the towhead, "Climb on your horse and get out of town."

"Mister," said Brog thickly, "you got about five seconds to live."

"You've got less than that," re-

George Liberace Slugged, Robbed

CHICAGO (AP) — Bandleader George Liberace was slugged and robbed early today while returning to a near North Side hotel from the night club where he is appearing with his pianist brother. The 43-year-old musician was taken to Wesley Memorial Hospital, where 16 stitches were required to close three deep lacerations on the back of his head. He was reported in good condition and physicians said he probably would be released later today.

A sudden hush fell upon the Texas man. He had brought them to town, he had led the taking over of Pillsbury's saloon and the street. And it was he, too, who had led the charge to cut off the girl who had wandered out upon the street.

Brog started to bluster. "Never saw the Yankee yet I couldn't lick."

"You'll never lick me," said Morgan, "cause I'll kill you at the first move anyone makes."

The towhead was suddenly more sober than he had been in more than a half hour.

The Yankee had no chance, of course. The cowboys would riddle him with bullets . . . but the towhead would not be alive to see it.

"Make up your mind," Morgan said harshly. "Back down, or fight!"

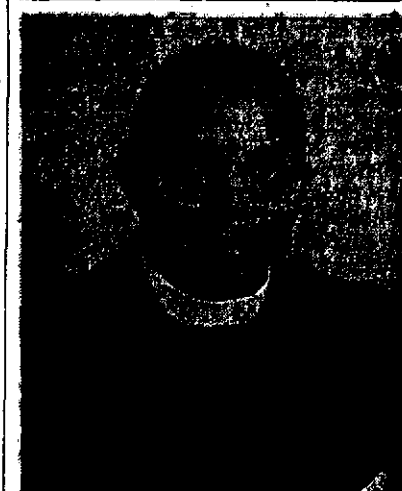

A shudder ran through the towhead's long body and Morgan knew that he had won. The man would not fight.

He half turned, stumbled toward his horse.

SMU Skids in National Cage Ranking

By The Associated Press
 Unbeaten North Carolina may be leaving Coach Frank McGuire limp of late with those near defeats, but the faith of the nation's sportswriters and sportscasters is a hissing as ever—retaining the Tar Heels as the No. 1 team in this week's Associated Press college basketball poll.

Despite a couple of scares last week — 65-61 in double overtime against Maryland and 75-73 over Duke — North Carolina piled a palmost 100 points more than runner-up Kansas and third-place Kentucky.

The Tar Heels (19-0) today gathered 58 first-place votes in the polling, judged on games through last Saturday. Kansas (14-1) gained 10 first-place votes, while Kentucky (now 17-4) lured three firsts. Rankings are based on a point system counting 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for a second, etc.

Southern Methodist and UCLA skidded down a couple of notches after upsets last week—making room for Seattle and Fradley—both of whom gained surprisingly strong support to move up to fourth and fifth, respectively, after being placed seventh and eighth a week ago.

SMU (16-3) slipped from fourth to sixth, UCLA, its 23-game winning streak in the Pacific Coast Conference halted decisively by Washington, dropped from fifth to seventh with a 16-2 record.

Louisville, beaten twice last week, fell from sixth to eighth. Iowa State is ninth and West Virginia 10th.

The top 10, with firstplace votes in parentheses:
 1. North Carolina (58) 387
 2. Kansas (16) 797
 3. Kentucky (3) 506
 4. Seattle (5) 401
 5. Bradley (5) 377
 6. Southern Methodist 327
 7. UCLA 303
 8. Louisville (1) 287
 9. Iowa State 200
 10. West Virginia (4) 188

The second 10, in order:
 Wake Forest, California, Oklahoma City, Canisius, West Virginia Tech, Illinois, Duke, Vanderbilt and Indiana, tie, and St. Louis.

Grid Schedule Has Bobcats Playing 12 Game

Hope High School head football coach Leon Turpin announced the Bobcat's 1937 schedule today which includes six games at home and six away. A good cross section of opponents including some of the strongest teams in each of the four divisions: B, A, AA and Big Eight.

The schedule includes Class B Stamps, always a top contender for the district title and one of the top teams in the state, in its class. Three Class A teams; Nashville has been rated a top class A team in the state the last two years, DeQueen is always a strong contender and is usually right behind Nashville and Prescott is coming back as a football power, only losing two or three games last year, and should be strong this year.

Hope is a member of the 4AA Conference and plays the six other members; Crossett, Magnolia, Smackover, Camden, Fairview and Arkadelphia. This Conference is generally recognized as being the toughest AA conference in the State and second only to the Big Eight among all conferences. The Bobcats schedule also includes two big eight teams; Texarkana and Hot Springs. Gurdon was dropped from this year's schedule and Texarkana added.

Returning starters in the line are: Lynn Wiggins at center, Jimmy Chambers and Jimmy Porterfields at guards, Jerry Franks and Jimmy May at ends. Returning starters in the backfield are: Tommy Polk, Don Boothe, David Watkins and Johnny Graves. Returning lettermen are: Jerry Thurman, Royce Weisenberger, Jack King, Billy Hairr and Oliver Adams.

The schedule follows:
 Sept. 13, Stamps, Here
 Sept. 20, DeQueen, There
 Sept. 27, Smackover, Here.
 Oct. 4, Texarkana, There
 Oct. 11, Crossett, Here.
 Oct. 18, Fairview, There.

Oklahoma Fears Quarterback Spot

By Wilbur Johnson
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) For the first time in his career, Oklahoma football coach Bud Wilkinson says, he will have to dip into his third and fourth string quarterbacks for a split-T general.

The 1936 national champions lost 16 seniors through graduation, including Jimmy Harris and his understudy Jay O'Neal. Neither played in a losing college grid game as the Sooners built their undefeated string to 40 straight.

Despite the rebuilding job facing Wilkinson in the quarterback department, he declared, "we hope to do as well as we did last year."

He predicted that Pittsburgh, the Sooners' first opponent of this season, would be the most formidable foe on the Oklahoma schedule. The Sooners meet the Panthers at Pittsburgh Sept. 21.

In Big Seven Conference competition, Wilkinson said he considered Colorado a "serious threat."

"Colorado lost only five players from its team last year," Wilkinson observed. After talking with newsmen, Wilkinson spoke briefly at All Sports Jamboree attended by some 700 fans.

Wilkinson was jokingly reminded—with the presentation of a toy oil well and yacht—of a Texas man's offer of a real boat and well as an inducement to coach at Houston University.

"These are a great deal more valuable than the two I was offered," Wilkinson said.

Arabs to Meet in Cairo Soon

CAIRO (AP)—Another Arab Big Four summit conference is predicted for Cairo next week to hear the report on Saudi Arabia's King Saud on his visit to Washington.

U. S. officials hope Saud will try to persuade the other leaders of the Arab "neutralist" bloc to accept President Eisenhower's plan for blocking Communist expansion in the Middle East.

An informed Egyptian source said Saud will meet Feb. 18 or 19 with President Nasser of Egypt, King Hussein of Jordan and President Shukri Kuwayt of Syria to tell them what he learned in Washington about the Eisenhower Doctrine.

The four Arab leaders met here before Saud left for the United States. Their countries are allied militarily through pacts placing their armies under an Egyptian commander.

Saud has stopped off in Madrid en route home for five days of conferences with Generalissimo Francisco Franco and Sultan Mohammed V of Morocco. In Washington he agreed on continued U. S. military and economic aid to Saudi Arabia.

The first hydro-electric plant in Arkansas was at Hammock Dam in Hot Spring County.

Plenty of Action as Hope Beats Emerson Here

— Hope Star photos
 Last night in Jones Field House Hope's Senior boys and girls downed two teams from Emerson, the girls winning 30 to 29 and the boys 44 to 46.
 Picture at the top left shows Joyce Vines, No. 3, going up for a rebound after a shot by Hope's Judy Rateliff, not in the picture. Joyce's arm blots out Jan Robinson's face.
 Bottom Photo, Jerry Franks again adds two points from the 22 foot line. Watching are Emerson's Pat Foster, No. 34 and R. Vaughn, No. 31. Also looking on are Hope players Perry Purdie, No. 10 and Lynn Wiggins, No. 21, and two unidentified Emerson players next to Wiggins.

Determined Hope Cage Teams Smash Emerson

Hope's Senior Girls and Boys basketball team put on a real show for local and visiting fans last night in Jones Field House by taking a doubleheader from favored Emerson, the pride of District 7E.

Coach Norma Taylor's sextet started slow and trailed 10-4 at the first quarter; picked up speed in the second period and led 20-16 at the half and 26-24 at the third period. Emerson's Smith dropped in a field goal to start the final period for a 26-26 score. With less than a minute to play, Hope led 29-28 and Jan Robinson hit a free toss for 30-28. Emerson sacked a free throw to make it 30-29 and the game was over.

Hope's stellar guards of Linda Rateliff, Alice Coffee and Sandra Burke did an outstanding job of rebounding and keeping Emerson forwards from moving in for closeups. Nelda Smith led Emerson with 17 and Teresa Green made 10.

As in the girls' tussle, the Bobcats started cautious and were trailing 11-4 at the first period. In the second quarter, with 2 minutes to play, the Bobcats were behind 15-12. Franks hit to make it 16-15. Wiggins hit again to make it 18-15. Emerson's Foster hit for 18-17, and with 5 seconds left in the half, Jerry Franks hit again and the Cats led 20-17 at the half.

With 4 minutes left in the third quarter, the Bobcats led 28-27. Franks hit for 30-27. Foster hit for 30-28. Franks hit again for 32-29 and then a free throw for 32-30. Franks hit 2 free throws for 34-30. Foster dropped in from the circle for 34-32. Watkins hit for 36-32. Kirk hit for 38-34. May hit 2 free tosses for 38-34 and Franks hit to make it 40-34 and the quarter ended that way.

Foster hit to start the final period for 40-36. made 2 charity tosses and it was Hope 40, Emerson 38. Watkins hit, Wiggins hit, Foster hit, and it was 44-30. Franks hit. Foster made 2 free throws, then hit from the outside. Franks made 2 free tosses. Kirk hit and Hollis hit 2 free throws and with 40 seconds to play, Hope led 50 to 46. Foster fouled Jimmy May and May sank 2 free tosses. Foster missed and Perry Purdie rebounded. May was again fouled and sank 2 more free tosses to give the Bobcats a 54 to 48 lead and the game was over.

Scoring for Hope gave Franks 18, Purdie and Watkins 10 each, May and Wiggins 8 apiece, Bruce and Hollis 2 each. Foster was high for the game with 28.

Officials were Byron Thompson and Bill McClelland. Scorekeepers were Judy Robins, Dennis Paddle and Francis Cox. Timekeeper was Teddy Jones. Paid admissions were Adults 30¢ and Students 21¢. Friday night, the Hope eagles entertain Lewisville here in two games, St. Boys and Girls.

them, mon, whether they're rented or not," he points out.

What a customer does with a ghost after he rents it—or who he has it haunt—is none of Constable Boyle's business. All he asks is that it be returned on time and in good condition.

Generally, he says, a ghost that was mean in its lifetime can be counted on to do the meanest kind of haunting.

The constable has an all-male stable of four ghosts at present. He has never had a call for a lady ghost; presumably living ladies already are doing all the feminine haunting required. The names of his ghosts are Murray, Gooney, Spence, and Richard Crotch.

"I can really give you good references for the job Crotch will do," says Constable Boyle gravely, his eyes twinkling. "He was a relative."

sable usually finds the laugh is turned on him.

Constable Boyle is a big man in Coakley Town, the native village that lies across Fresh Creek from Andros Town, the multimillion-dollar resort colony being built here by Dr. Axel Wanner-Green, time Swedish industrialist.

He helps keep peace among its 350 live souls 8 and, of course, keeps its innumerable ghosts in line, too. He also is the postman. And on Sunday, as a lay pastor in the native Anglican Church, he puts on his ministerial robes and preaches.

Now, about those ghosts—

"My price for renting a ghost is $28 a week, sight unseen," says Constable Boyle, "and I'll sell you a ghost outright for $1,400. But it's only fair to warn you that you can't take him with you. If you leave Andros, he will remain. He can only haunt where he's lived."

So far no one has bought a $1,400 ghost, not even an angry tourist's wife anxious to haunt her husband. Few also seem willing to play out 28 for a full week.

But the constable resolutely refuses to lower prices or rent his ghosts for part-time work. He feels that no conscientious ghost can do a thorough job of haunting in less than a full week. A ghost on a hurryup one-night assignment, hardly has time to gear up his ectoplasm and get into the spirit of the thing. He'd rather let 'em float around and loaf.
